Recognizing that veteran's military training, service, and experience make them uniquely qualified to respond to disasters, Team Rubicon positions veterans to make decisions and take action in the austere environment of disaster. Since its founding in 2010, Team Rubicon has equitably served communities both big and small from Hurricane Harvey in Texas, to the flooding of homes in a small Rio Grande community, to Hurricane Sandy, to Dengue Fever in the Marshall Islands, to a single flooded home in North Carolina. Their unwavering commitment to serve presses on.
